In 1910, Ellen's Isle was acquired by Mabel Walton, a spinster from Hamilton, Ontario. Around 1915, a relative, Watson G. Walton, camped on the island and decided to build a cottage. Mr. Walton finished the interior of the cottage beautifully with imported British Columbia cedar. He also had an ice house and a two-storey boathouse built at the back of the cottage on Sunset Bay using lumber Click on this and there you can upload an image of your choice and add some information on your property. It's a simple online version of Island Odyssey. Climate Change. Understand its impacts globally, in Ontario, and the Great Lakes. Discover your rights and what municipalities can do in Ontario.

Here is a 36 minute video presented by Dr. Shannon Carto from the office of the Environmental Commissioner of Ontario (ECO). The Ontario government is basically eliminating the ECO with Bill 57.

Shooting the messenger won't make climate change go away. The ECO has been a really important watchdog for the Ontario environment over the last 25 years and the office's virtual elimination does not bode well for independent and fact-based environmental performance.
